[mex118] Geodesic on a sphere

Use the calculus of variation to prove that the shortest path between two points A and B on a sphere of radius r is a great circle. A great circle is the intersection between the sphere and a plane that goes through the center of the sphere.

Solution: